Dear Parents,

This year, Catholic Schools Week marks its 50th anniversary with the theme “United in Faith and Community.” Those core values can be found in Catholic schools across the nation. Catholic schools teach students to become future servant leaders, faith-filled disciples, and enriched citizens in our communities. These shared qualities are what make Catholic schools work. They are what make Catholic schools succeed and it is the reason families make sacrifices to provide their children with an authentic Catholic education.

If you want your child’s education to reflect faith and lifelong values, I encourage you to consider a Catholic school. Your choice will show that you value an education grounded in the Gospel message — a message that is woven into every aspect of the school day and beyond. In Catholic schools, Christ’s presence is evident in everything we do.

In addition, Catholic education also offers extensive and competitive academics. Our teachers set the bar high, and students deliver.

I invite you to tour one of our 85 elementary schools or 16 high schools to see what sets Catholic education apart and leave with a better understanding of the faith-filled difference we offer.

May God bless and guide you, and your family, as you consider this important decision.

Sincerely yours in Christ,

Most Reverend Jerome E. Listecki
Archbishop of Milwaukee
